Hello Families!

Students worked on group projects exploring the accomplishments and legacy of ancient Greece. This included, research, visual representation, and an oral presentation.

We continued watching The Odyssey and exploring some of the literary themes in Homer's epic poem. Odysseus has finally realized that he is just one man in the world. He has overcome his hubris.

Students held the memorial ceremony for our pharaohs and they have been interred in their final resting place.

Many students created posters for the Youthquake contest. I will be delivering them to Riley Street in San Rafael for judging.

Math/Science

Hello!

This week students have been exploring and researching different scientists. We are tracking how scientists have worked to achieve their careers and dreams.

We finished up our projects to present at Open House, and discussed how scientists become scientists!

Thanks to all who came to Open House!

Best,

Ms. Lindsey
