

First Grade Newsletter

We started science and social studies this week! Mrs. Devol taught us about what scientists do and the different kinds of scientists. Ms. Duran showed us the earth.

Wildcare came to our class this week to teach us about birds. We learned that all birds have feathers and they all have adaptations that help them survive.

During math we are playing games to build fact fluency in a fun way. We are continuing to solve story problems.

We did MAP testing this week. MAP shows us how students have grown since last year and helps teachers plan instruction in reading and math based on what students need to learn.
