Highlights from Ms. Perez & Ms. Alison's Room

- ✚ We continued learning about the 5 senses. We sorted pictures of-good smells/bad smells, safe to touch/not safe to touch, good tastes/tastes into our senses book. Remember to ask your child about what senses they use throughout the day (i.e.: eating dinner, brushing teeth, reading a book). We continued to sort beginning sounds and practiced writing upper and lower case letters. In writer's corner the kids wrote about the 5 senses.
- ✚ In Math, we worked in our Investigations books comparing the length and number of letters in our name. After, we graphed it on the board to see what the majority was. The majority of our class has 4 letters in their name! The students cut and sorted buttons by the number of holes they had. They continued to work on Dreambox and are making good progress. Please try to have your child log on to Dreambox for at least 25min a week.
- ✚ We need your help- We are really struggling to help our students understand the importance of personal best work. Many times students will do a beautiful job cutting and gluing and then when asked to color they go back to their desk and scribble all over their work. As part of their homework we have added coloring pages. Encourage them to take their time and do their personal best.

*Please send in an art bag with your child's name on it so we can send home their beautiful work

- ✚ We've been having so much fun working on our Gingerbread Project. We are building a class Gingerbread Neighborhood and are excited to share it with our families during our holiday performance.
- ✚ We practiced recognizing and ordering teen numbers on Gingerbread and we used tally marks to represent the teen number. We are learning how to make groups of five.
- ✚ We continued our Geometry unit in Math. We made shapes out of play-doh and used our pattern blocks to make cool picture
- ✚ We started learning how to read and write colors by creating our very own Pete the Cat story. We also did a Pete the Cat guided drawing with a special guest artist.
- ✚ We began our sight word sticker books! Information was sent home with Friday folders.

On December 22nd we will have a little holiday party in our classroom. We will do a little performance and have a light breakfast.

On January 25th we will have a class family potluck! We will send out more information soon!
